To whom it may concern:

By means of this letter, MSI Sistemas de Inteligencia de Mercado, S.A. would like to formally state our professional recommendation of Alfonso Rúa Martínez, who has been part of our technical team within the framework of the Data Space project developed by the company.

During his time at MSI, Alfonso actively participated in the construction and implementation of a cloud environment on Microsoft Azure, built from scratch, contributing to the definition, deployment and evolution of the infrastructure required to support the project's data integration, processing and exploitation processes.

In the performance of his duties, he worked with key technologies and services within the project architecture, including Azure Data Factory, Databricks, Kubernetes, ClickHouse databases, SQL Server and PostgreSQL. He also participated in tasks related to the deployment and configuration of technical components of the Data Space, including the Tractus-X connector, as well as in integration, automation, data loading and data processing processes from different sources.

His work was linked both to the cloud infrastructure side and to the technical operation of the platform, in a demanding environment that required coordination between cloud services, databases, ingestion processes, deployments and components typical of a modern data-oriented architecture.

Throughout this period, Alfonso demonstrated strong technical competence, learning ability, responsibility and a very positive attitude towards the challenges of the project. His involvement was particularly valuable in an initiative that required combining knowledge of cloud infrastructure, data, security, systems integration and technical operations.

We would like to expressly state that the termination of his employment relationship with MSI was due to the closure of the project for which he was hired and the internal reorganization process resulting from said closure. This decision was not related to his professional performance, which we assess positively.

For all these reasons, we recommend Alfonso Rúa Martínez as a serious and committed professional, with the ability to integrate into technical teams focused on data, cloud and infrastructure projects. We believe he can bring value to organizations requiring profiles with initiative, adaptability and practical experience in complex technological environments.

In witness whereof, we sign this letter of recommendation in Madrid, on 17 July 2026.

Yours faithfully,
